

Ombudsman launches broad inquiry into Commission handling of staff 'revolving doors' cases

News - 18/05/2021

European Ombudsman Emily O'Reilly has launched a wide-ranging inquiry into how the Commission handles so-called 'revolving doors' cases among its staff. The inquiry is part of a reinforced monitoring of how the EU administration implements the ethics obligations on EU staff who move to the private sector.

Read here the press release .