

Call for academic papers on the evolving role of the European Ombudsman

News - 17/06/2022

The Office of the European Ombudsman and the European University Institute in Florence are issuing a call for academic papers on the evolving role of the European Ombudsman. Chosen papers will form the basis for discussion at a two-day academic seminar in November. For more details about the issues to be explored and the deadline for the initial abstract, please click on the link below on this page.