

The Commission's new visual identity and logo introduced in 2012 and multi-lingualism

Case opened

Case 478/2014/PMC - Opened on 01/04/2014 - Decision on 31/03/2016 - Institution concerned European Commission (No maladministration found) |

Allegation(s)

- 1) The Commission failed to reply to the complainant's substantive arguments and questions raised in its letters of 12 November 2012 and 15 November 2013.
- 2) The Commission's visual identity used in its press conference room or rather the related bilingual logo is contrary to EU law and discriminates against the majority of language groups in the EU.

Claim(s)

- 1) The Commission should reply to the complainant's arguments and questions.
- 2) The Commission should use a language-neutral visual identity in its press conference room.
